- BIG CULTURAL SCENE

The Village's Cultural Stage showcases Traditional Dance and Music from Each Country at the Foot of the Eiffel Tower. Over Four Days, a Succession of Incredibly Diverse Concerts and Shows delighted Visitors and Professionals.

- FOOD CULTURES LIBRARY

A Selection of Food Culture Books from 180 Countries were showcased in the Big Tent of the Village International de la Gastronomie during the Four Days of the France Food Forum. Founded in 1995 by Edouard Cointreau, and with over 100.000 Screened Books and Publications from some 230 Countries and Regions, the Gourmand Awards was bringing an Overview about Food and Drink Content published all around the World.

This Exhibition was an Opportunity to explore the Huge Diversity of Subjects, Styles, Angles, Recipes and Strategies of Each Country. It also pays Tribute to the many Professionals in the Sector, Authors, Publishers, Graphic Designers, Photographers, Printers, Researchers, Booksellers and all those who delight and astonish Readers with the Quality of their Books.

- AUGUSTE ESCOFFIER PAVILION

Few men in the History of Cooking have had such a Profound Impact on the Profession, both in Terms of the Length and Exemplary Nature of their Careers, and in Terms of the Changes and Innovations they have brought about. While today's Tastes have evolved, as have Cooking Utensils, Cooking and Preserving Methods and the Structure of Menus, in a World where New Techniques have become established, the Rules of Cooking and the Organisation of Work remain Identical to those created by Auguste Escoffier in his Day.

During the Forum de France de l'Alimentation, the Espace Escoffier brought together the Disciples Escoffier International and the Fondation Auguste Escoffier / Musée Escoffier de l'Art Culinaire around an Exhibition, a Round Table and a Pavilion with a Rich Programme of Cooking Shows by over 100 Disciples from all Over the World.

- FRENCH CHEFS PAVILION

At the Heart of the Village International de la Gastronomie, the French Chefs Pavilion brought together French Chefs Associations. As a Showcase for Gastronomy from Mainland France and Overseas, the Chefs and Associations offered Cooking Shows based on Products from French Regions and promoting their Culinary Heritage.

It was also a Place for Renowned and Admired Chefs to meet and exchange Ideas with the Younger Generation of Future Professionals in the Hotel and Restaurant Industry. An Pavilion designed by Marie Sauce-Bourreau.

- INTERNATIONAL CITIES OF GASTRONOMY

France, Rich in the Diversity of its Agriculture, the Abundance of its Culinary Cultures and the Vitality of its Gastronomic Heritage, has created a Number of Living Facilities dedicated to the Culinary Cultures of France and the World.

Dijon, Lyon, Paris-Rungis and Tours have joined Forces and pooled their Energies to invent an Original and Effective Tool for transmitting and showcasing Food Culture. For the First Time, Food Heritage has been placed at the Heart of First-Class Cultural Facilities. The Emergence of the Cités de la Gastronomie, these New Cultural Venues entirely and fully dedicated to Food Heritage, illustrates France's Commitment to promoting an Essential Dimension of its Culture.

- RUNGIS INTERNATIONAL MARKET

Rungis International Market has played a Predominant Role in the Village since its First Edition in 2016. The Presence of Professionals from the Rungis Ecosystem is Decisive for many Countries wishing to trade with French Wholesalers and Distributors. Stéphane Layani, President of Rungis International Market and Chairman of the World Union of Wholesale Markets, has been the Village's Honorary President since 2016.

- WORLD UNION OF WHOLESALE MARKETS

The World Union of Wholesale Markets (WUWM) is an International Network of Fresh Food and Products Organizations. 150 Wholesalers and 30 Retailers and Street Markets from around the World lead International Efforts to ensure Food Security as well as Healthy, Guaranteed and Accessible Diets for Everyone. Their Goal is to make sure that People around the World have Easy Access to High-Quality, Healthy Diets through a Well-Organized, Safe and Sustainable Food System. With 217 Members, WUWM works in over 42 Countries Worldwide, covering 5 Continents.
